

Tartar Grads Reunited For Holidays in Germany

A Torrance High School graduate recently held a reunion in Germany with a young man from that country who attended Torrance High under the student foreign exchange program.

Russell DeFields, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. DeFields of 50 Elm St., visited the home of Dieter Seiler in Boppard,

Germany, where the local youth says he is "treated just like a son."

DeFields is serving as a draftsman and teletype operator for an Army quartermaster battalion in Ludwigsburg, Germany. He will be separated from active duty in September but plans on spending about a month in Europe before returning to Torrance.

"I have gained much from my visits with the Seiler family and learned how the German people live," DeFields says. In a letter to his parents the youth tells of spending Christmas with the German family.

IN HIS REPORT home on the holidays, DeFields wrote: "On Christmas Eve we had dinner around 6 o'clock, and just before we started eating, everyone put his wallet or purse on the table, which is a German custom to bring good luck and much money in the year to come."

"Christmas Eve is the time for exchanging gifts in Germany. After we had finished eating, we lit the lights on the Christmas tree which are candles, not electric lights. (It is a very beautiful sight.)

"AT 7 O'CLOCK, everyone in Germany who is thinking of the people behind the Wall of Shame in East Berlin lighted a candle and placed it in their front window. We then sang Christmas Carols for almost an hour."

"On the second day of Christmas I went to church services with Dieter and in the evening we both went out for an evening of dancing at one of the restaurants in Boppard. "The rest of the week was spent visiting with Dieter and his parents and visiting some of Dieter's friends and relatives. This was very enjoyable for me because in each case I was treated as one of the family and not as a stranger from another country."

REUNION IN GERMANY . . . Memories of Torrance High School are recalled by Russell DeFields, left, of Torrance, and Dieter Seiler recently when the two got together in Seiler's hometown of Boppard, Germany. Seiler was a foreign exchange student at Torrance High.
